The scarcity of money however, obliges us to say to our friends, that responsible and prompt persons who desire the Sentinel need not delay sending us their names at once, who can send us the Cash in a short time. THE PEOPLE must be trusted with their Government, and if trusted, my opinion is that they will act in good faith, and restore their former constitutional relations with all the States composing the Union.—Andrew Johnson's Letter to Gov. Sharkey, of Mississippi.

The Late Election.

It is palpable to every one, that the public outside of the State and the President himself, have been made to believe by the representations made by a portion of the public press in the State, and perhaps by individual representation, that the result of our late elections, indicates hostility to him and to the government in its plan of reconstruction. Such representations are so palpably false, so clearly contradicted by the facts, that here at home, the idea that such representations have been credited, astounds every one.

Gov. Holden both officially and otherwise, has publicly and repeatedly endorsed the loyalty of our people. Judge Reade in his official communication to the President, does the same thing. Mr. Speaker Settle in his installation speech, reiterates, we believe, the same thing, and yet on the back of these declarations, made by those who have the endorsement of the President, and those who profess to have a special claim to his ear, the impression produced by the late elections, is adverse to the loyalty of our people. What has produced this? It is well known that the Standard has since the election, contributed as far as it could do so, to create this impression. But it is hardly probable that any one would form his opinions solely from the statements of an angry and interested partizan paper. It must therefore be plain, that these false and injurious impressions have been made by such means as would most likely effect the object.

Will any man of respectability in North Carolina take it upon himself to say, that Mr. Worth, or any member of Congress or any member of the Legislature, is hostile to the President, to his plan of reconstruction or to the early adjustment of all difficulties with the Southern States? Does any believe that any of these gentlemen, whose public and private characters have been thus endorsed by the people of North Carolina, are unsound men and not worthy to be trusted? We challenge investigation it to their characters. If not, by what system of logic or by what stretch of the imagination, can any one conclude that the late elections indicate a feeling of hostility among the people to the government?

Mr. Worth was selected as a candidate, before it was known that Gov. Holden would be a candidate. He was announced two days in advance, if we remember correctly, of Gov. Holden. He was selected for his known Union views—his peace views, his uniform consistency—as a friend of the President, and of his policy, and out of respect to the government. Those who supported him are as devoted to the government as the friends of Gov. Holden can be. By what rule therefore can his election or the election of any of his friends, be construed into hostility to the government? The idea to our mind, is simply absurd.

Copperheads.

The Sentinel was called by the Standard the other day, a copperhead sheet. The principal scribbler for that sheet, makes his attacks at random, and does more damage in his own ranks than in those of his opponents. The Sentinel has no connection with and no affinity for Northern politics or politicians. We can form no party affiliations with any party North until the States are fully restored. We support the President and we act with the National Union party, believing that they aim at an early restoration of Union and quiet; beyond this we do not go. If we have not misinterpreted the tone of the Wilmington Herald and the Newbern Times, especially up to a late period, we should judge they were favorable to the Northern Democracy or Copperheads, and they affiliate with the Standard. Hence the assault of the Standard upon us, hits some one else and not us.

The Legislature.

This body seems to have plunged pell mell into the election of State officers, Judges, &c., without much previous notice or apparent concert.—Important elections ought to be well considered and the claims of candidates well canvassed in advance. Every representative should be prepared to give to his constituents a reason for his vote. We are compelled for the want of time and space to omit the vote of the several ballots had. We shall give them in our next issue, that the people may examine the votes of their representatives.

The Loyalty of North Carolina.

The House of Commons on yesterday adopted unanimously, the resolutions of Mr. D. L Russell, Jr., of Brunswick, published by us on yesterday, after a few verbal alterations. They fully sustain the positions of the Sentinel in regard to the loyalty of our people to the government, and by consequence rebuke in proper terms the slanderous and libellous attacks made upon the State, by some of our own presses and people.

Our Reporter.

Our Legislative proceedings to-day are necessarily abridged on account of the sickness of our Reporter, who was obliged to be absent.

Amendment to the Constitution.

The House on Wednesday and the Senate on yesterday, adopted the proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States, with almost entire unanimity. Does this look like opposition to President Johnson's reconstruction policy? Verily, it looks very much as if the election of particular men, is much more important to our peace, than the adoption of measures.

We are requested to say that the votes of Gen. A. D. McLean on the election of Supreme Court Judges, are correctly reported in the Sentinel of yesterday, but not in the Standard and Progress. The Gen. voted for Judges Pearson, Battle, and Manly.

LIFE INSURANCE.—The attention of the reader is called to the advertisement of Mr. Crow on the subject of life insurance. It is an important matter and one in which all are interested.

Daily Salisbury Gazette.

We have received several numbers of this paper just started at Salisbury by Messrs Cole and Hampton. It is a neat paper and will be properly conducted. We wish the proprietors much success.

NORTH CAROLINA LEGISLATURE.

SENATE.

FRIDAY, Dec. 1, 1865.

Prayer by the Rev. A Smedes, D. D.

The journal of yesterday was read and approved.

Mr. Wilson introduced a bill to extend the charter of the Bank of the State of North Carolina. [Provides for the extension of the charter to the 1st of January 1868 and that it shall have the power of making an assignment of all its assets for the equal benefit of all its creditors, whenever it may deem it expedient to do so.]

Mr. Wilson also introduced a bill to amend chapter thirty-three of the Revised Code. [Provides for five Judges of the Supreme Court.]

These bills were read the first time and placed on the calendar.

The engrossed resolutions adopting the constitutional admendment abolishing slavery within the United States, came up on their second reading.

Mr. Morehead said: It is not my wish to impede the passage of the resolutions, nor do I wish to influence other Senators upon so important a subject. I have reflected much, and simply wish to state that I cannot vote for the resolutions, not that I desire to interfere with the ordinance prohibiting slavery or involuntary servitude in the State. It seems to me that the resolutions passed by Congress and proposed as an amendment of the United States Constitution, might be construed to frightful lengths.

Once the resolutions are adopted and become a part of the Constitution of the United States, it then becomes the supreme law of the land. It surely cannot be contended that the late freedmen are, or ought to be, in a better condition than the free born negro. Heretofore this State, and I think, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and perhaps several of the other States, inhibited the immigration of the free negroes into their States by legislative enactments. Their right to do so, has not been questioned, so far as I am informed.

Should the proposed amendment be adopted, I fear that it can and will be so construed as to give Congress unlimited power in legislating whenever the negro is concerned, and to pass all laws deemed necessary, though it place him on an equal footing with the white man. If so he then becomes a citizen, and the citizens of each State are entitled to the privileges and immunities of citizens of all the States, and cannot be inhibited from immigration, as all State laws must yield.

President Johnson has in his reconstruction policy, with fairness and magnanimity left it to the States to regulate the elective franchise.

Should it be deemed necessary to secure the freedman in his rights that the elective franchise should be conferred on him, a State cannot withhold it.

So, many other subjects might be enumerated, such as the privilege of giving evidence; intermarrying with whites, bearing arms, &c.

I am fully aware of the construction put upon the resolution by Mr. Seward. Those who come hereafter may place a different construction.—The States having abolished slavery by their own Conventions, I think they acted in good faith, and consequently there is no necessity for further provision. It is the cherished object of my wishes to gain a speedy admission into the Union and to avoid all difficulty.

Twenty-five Thousand Liberals near Matamoras—Negro Troubles in Texas.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 29.—The Times' Vera Cruz advices to the 14th says everything is unsettled in Mexico, and general distrust prevails. Business is paralyzed, and Maximilian's power is daily lessening. Puebla has been selected as the general headquarters for the furnishing of the Imperial army.

The Empress had started for Yucatan, unaccompanied by Maximilian, who follows in January. The reception of the Empress along the route was tame, except at Vera Cruz, where the demonstration was somewhat grand. She departs for Yucatan on the 16th inst.

Fourteen hundred reinforcements had arrived at Vera Cruz and more were looked for.

Galveston dates to the 23d instant report the arrival of the steamer Clinton, from the Rio Grande, with a large number of white and black troops homeward bound, to be discharged. Passengers four days from Matamoras state that the Liberals, about 25,000 strong, are encamped ten miles above Matamoras. The garrison of Matamoras consists of 1,700 regulars, some volunteers, citizens, and detachments of Frenchmen.

The Clinton brought the 28th regiment colored troops of Indiana from Corpus Christi.

The citizens of Liberty county, Texas, have petitioned to Gov. Hamilton to organize the militia to suppress anticipated insurrections amongst the negroes, who openly avow their right to a division of the property, and refuse to accept the terms of hire.

The Chief Justice of the county has been threatened with death.

Col. R. H. Epperson, of Texas, has gone to Washington to complain of the corrupt condition of the officials, and the unwarranted assumption of power by the provost marshals and the freedmen's bureau.

From Texas.

The Nashville Dispatch, of the 22nd, says:

We had the pleasure of meeting with a gentleman, a Tennesseean, yesterday, who has just returned from Texas. He spent most of the summer and fall on the Colorado river, and he gives the most flattering account of the condition of affairs, the crops, etc. The people are accommodating themselves to the new state of affairs, and the country is again becoming what it was in times gone by, prosperous and inviting to the seekers of good homes and ample fortunes. Good land can be bought at from one to three dollars per acre. Cotton was worth thirty to thirty-three cents per pound corn twenty-five to thirty cents per bushel; good cattle and excellent horses at five and six dollars per head. Upon the whole, he thinks that, that is the place for those who desire good homes, and want to make plenty, to remove to. The negroes are mostly content to remain with their former masters, who are giving them ample remuneration for their labor.

Hon. Wm. A. Graham of North Carolina.

We share the regret which we feel persuaded, all good citizens will feel at the announcement that Hon. Wm. A. Graham has found himself constrained to decline taking his seat in the Senate of North Carolina, because of the failure of the President to extend to him that amnesty which has been so widely and wisely offered to the Southern people.

Gov. Graham was elected by the unanimous vote of the people of Orange, and enjoys generally throughout the State a popularity almost as flattering.

The Raleigh Sentinel suggests that the failure of Mr Graham to receive his pardon may be owing to the refusal of Gov. Holden to endorse his application.

On what ground! Can it be to defeat a rival for the United States Senatorship?

On general grounds no Southern man more richly deserves the favorable consideration of the President. In the fierce conflict of the Presidential election of 1860, Gov. Graham was conspicuous for his decided hostility to the position and objects of the Secessionists. In the early part of 1861, he was among those who led the people of North Carolina to cast so large a vote, not only against Secession, but even against the holding of a Convention which might lead to Secession, and only yielded when the action of Virginia left North Carolina scarcely any other alternative.

He was a member of the Confederate Senate, but was among the leading men in upholding the rights of the people against the dangerous encroachments of power. His opposition to the suspension of the privilege of habeas corpus endeared him to all men who favor the supremacy of law.

In the session of '64-5, Gov. Graham was known as one of the "Union Senators," and we remember well the odium heaped on him in certain quarters, because of his persistent efforts towards negotiation, and we know likewise the grief he felt and expressed at the failure of the Hampton Roads Conference, from which, he, in common with thousands, hoped so much. That failing, he advocated the scheme of separate State action, so earnest was he to restore to this distracted and desolated people the blessings of peace.

Surely, few men deserve more richly the favor of Mr. Johnson, and we hope he will soon place him in a position in which his character and talents may be of service to his fellow-citizens.—Petersburg Index.

IMPROVEMENT.—We are pleased to notice so much shipping in port now, when it is so badly needed. The wharves are completely filled with produce of all kinds awaiting shipment, which we suppose can be removed now. We notice the arrival of three or four sailing vessels, and a steamer during the course of yesterday afternoon.—Wil. Dispatch

IMPORTANT COMMUNICATION,

For the Times, and all Times, to be Considered.

The first stone in the structure of life insurance was laid by the hand of the Almighty when he planted in the human heart the generous impulses of love and affection, which prompt us to provide for our own; but the keystone is this law of average to secure which we bind ourselves together to bear each other's burdens, the stronger and richer, as the longer lives must be, helping the weaker and poorer brother that is cut down in early life, and by the universal law of compensation it gives us either the blessings of a long life, or the pleasing assurance of leaving a competency to our loved ones, as the films of death are curtaining them from our sight forever.

Times like the present make most manifest the peculiar benefit of life insurance. Business is interrupted. Men are anxious for the future. Thousands have families growing up around them whose property depends upon the continuance of the father's life. Should he die, the income would cease; the children must be withdrawn from school; the mother and elder children must resort to every expedient to sustain the family; and, in many cases with the utmost exertion, this can not be done; the wife will return to her father for support, and the children, separated, must go, the older to seek work, and the younger be distributed among friends. Such reverses befall men the least expecting them. While business is active, and prosperity gives exhiliration and hope, men can hardly be made to feel that they are within a hand's breadth of utter reverse, and that their families may be scattered in a month, by the death of the father. But hard times lead men to think of these things.

Now if a man has insured a sum of one, five or ten thousand dollars upon his life, the anxiety is removed. While he lives, he can support his family. If he dies, ample provision is made for them.

It is every man's duty to provide for his family. That provision must include its future contingent condition. That provision, so far as it is material, men ordinarily seek to secure by their own accumulations and investments. But all these are uncertain. The man rich to-day, is, from causes beyond his reach, poor to-morrow. A war in China, a revolution in Europe, a rebellion in America, overrule ten thousand fortunes in every commercial community. But, in life insurance there are no risks or contingencies. Other investments may fail. A house may burn down. Banks may break. Bonds and mortgages may be seized for debt, and all property may fall into the bottomless gulf of bankruptcy. But money secured to your family by life insurance, will go to them without fail or interruption, provided you have selected a sound and honorable insurance company. Of two courses, one of which may leave your family destitute, and the other of which assures them a comfortable support at your decease, can there be a doubt which is to be chosen?"

The benefits of life insurance are not confined to a provision for families, but are as numerous as the various circumstances of individuals. It enables a person to make a provision for a wife, a parent, a child, a friend or domestic, depending on him, and he lives secure, that while his industry is providing for their support, his savings are effectually guarding them against want in the event of his death, thus doing his whole duty toward them instead of only one half of it.

It enables a person to raise money on loans where real security can not be offered, to provide for the prompt payment of his debts in the case of his death, and to secure the eventual payment of doubtful debts.

By it a charitable individual may donate a legacy to some beneficent institution; or a congregation a support to their minister's family in case of his death.

It provides means to reimburse the sum expended in the purchase of any life estate, on the death of the person during whose life it is held; to remove incumbrances, payable on events connected with the termination of life; and secures the return of money paid for education, for capital embarked in business, or other advances made for children or others, in the event of their premature death; and, generally, it affords a certain indemnity against any pecuniary loss whatsoever to which one individual may become subject, by reason of the death of another.

It is a subject, then, which concerns the poor as well as the rich, the man living on his income, the mechanic the farmer, the professional man, the merchant—in short all classes of the community.

Surely, such an institution deserves the countenance, the consideration and support of all of fleeting men, and is doubly recommended, when it is considered how very small a sacrifice of some personal gratification, will secure, by its means, independence and happiness of a family.

[CORRESPONDENCE OF THE DAILY INDEX.]

LONE-ISLE, N. C., Nov. 24th, 1865.

Mr. Editor :—Living somewhat removed from the busy haunts of men, and unable, therefore, to detail scenes and incidents of general interest, I should not again tempt the patience of your readers, did I not believe that a few comments on recent events, in this State, may not be altogether unacceptable.

It is now definitely ascertained that Jonathan Worth has received a majority of votes for Governor, over Mr. Holden. Some of the Northern journals, true to their instincts, are endeavoring to torture this action of our people into evidence of disloyalty. In this view, it may not be unprofitable briefly to enquire into the true causes of Mr. Holden's defeat. These cannot be properly ascertained without referring to a few facts in the history of his life. The characters of public men become public property; and while nothing can justify misrepresentation or malignity, they may always be legitimately referred to as illustrating public affairs.

Governor Holden has been closely indentified with the political parties of the State for the last twenty-five years, principally as editor of the Raleigh Standard. Since his appointment as Provisional Governor he has withdrawn from the paper, but it is generally believed that he still gives tone and character to many of the leading articles. As a partisan editor, few men ever excelled him. It is questionable whether Thomas Ritchie himself could have managed political matters in North Carolina with more ability. He seemed intuitively to know, understand and appreciate the popular wants and prejudices, and he never failed in the discretion to hold his hand, or in the courage to strike boldly at the right time. He evinced, too, a fine literary taste, and some of his articles, for deep thought forcibly expressed, cannot be surpassed in that species of writing, while his lines to the memory of Calhoun almost entitle him to the rank of a poet. But still Mr. Holden was a partisan editor, and never seemed to soar into the higher regions of patriotism, nor did he ever spare a political foe when it was in his power to give him a death thrust. In this he should not be hastily judged—he did not differ from other politicians, and but adopted the law laid down by the beligerents of the press. It is perhaps his misfortune, rather than his fault, if he inflicted wounds which will rankle in the flesh until his victories cease to exist. It is needless to add, that he made many enemies, and became absolutely odious to nine-tenths of the old Whig party; while, strange and paradoxical as it may appear, he was never very popular, save as an editor, with the mass of the Democratic party in this State.

Such was Mr. Holden's position, until he threw himself, about the fall of 1860, into the anti-secession movement, it must be confessed, with great zeal, and with his accustomed ability. Still, he at first supported the Southern cause with much ardor, and the only evidence he gave during the late terrible struggle, that he desired to see the old order of things restored, was in the bitterness of his attacks on the administration of Mr. Davis, and those generally having the conduct of affairs, taking care always to distinguish between the administration and the government, professing to the latter a proper degree of attachment. By his course before the war, he alienated many of his old friends, but, perhaps, he may have propitiated old enemies to an equal extent, while, by his bearing during its progress, he rendered himself obnoxious to all who looked forward with hope to Southern independence. Possibly he may now regard this fact as the proudest of his life. The effect of it, however, was seen in the very heavy majority by which he was defeated by Z. B. Vance for Governor. It is true, that the election is said to have been controlled by Confederate bayonets, but, as far as my observation extended, I am compelled to declare, that I never witnessed an election in this State less influenced by governmental interference. Whatever may have dictated Mr. Holden's policy, I but repeat an admitted truth when I say, that he failed, thereby, to acquire popular favor, or to inspire confidence in the sincerity of his patriotism, and his status in these respects had not changed when he was selected by the President as Provisional Governor of the State.

On his appointment, the popular mind did not turn to him with hope, but during the first two or three months of his administration he gained rapidly in the estimation of the public. Our desolated people looked for some one in his position, who would open his heart to them in their distress, and who would plead their cause at the foot-stool of power, with the zeal of an apostle and the devotion of a martyr. Gov. Holden entirely failed to gratify this yearning of his fellow citizens—he allowed the golden opportunity to glide away from him forever, which, if embraced as the occasion demanded, would have mollified even his worst enemies, and would have caused all classes to rally to him as a unit. Still it was supposed, and the supposition was true to a certain extent, that he was using his influence to avert from us threatened calamities, and to obtain for us a speedy restoration to the family of States. But as time wore on, doubts arose even as to this. His great delay in calling a Convention—his evident persecution of some of our leading men—his removal from office of all the old incumbents, contrasted most unfavorably with the action of other Provisional Governors, and in connection with many other incidents, weakened, if not destroyed, the belief that he was the people's friend. He had failed to make North Carolina, as he might have easily done, the pioneer in the work of reconstruction, and produced the impression that this failure was in some way connected with his own political aspirations. When, therefore, the Convention met, the memory of his past, combining with the effect of the present course, rendered him, in the fullest sense of the term, unpopular; that dreadful word which, with the force of the hurricane, prostrates, at times, the highest genius and the purest patriotism, Governor Holden became its victim, whether justly or unjustly, it is not my province to determine.

Still there was a very general desire that there should be no opposition, upon the principle it would seem "better bear the ills we have, than fly to others we know not of." But the terribly proscriptive spirit evinced by his friends in the Convention—the disgusting intrigues for future power and place, and the discontent of those who regarded themselves as unjustly treated, caused opposition to be resolved upon. The only thing here wanting was a suitable candidate—a man who would unite the two essential requisites, a consistent Union record, unobjectionable to the Government, and a liberal anti-proscriptive spirit. Such a man was found in Jonathan Worth. An old Whig, an undoubtedly loyal and worthy gentleman, who was believed to have the ear of the President; a man, too, who although not much celebrated as a politician, had succeeded in inspiring public confidence in his honesty and singleness of purpose, and whose character filled our poor people with the hope that he would be able, as far as mortal in his position, could be able, to stretch forth his hands, and say unto them: "Come unto me all ye that are weary and heavy laden, and I will give you rest." And so the race was run between him and Gov. Holden. The result is known, and is accounted for in the impartial manner which I have given.

The attempt to make this result evidence of a spirit of disloyalty in our people, does not deserve to be seriously considered, although it is countenanced even by the Standard. What are the facts? The Convention unanimously abolished slavery, and declared, by nearly a unanimous vote, that the ordinance of Nov. 21st, 1789, ratifying the constitution of the United States, "is now, and always has been" in full force in North Carolina, notwithstanding the supposed ordinance of secession of May 20th, 1861, which, it was declared, "is now and always has been, null and void." That body too, through respect to the wishes of the President, repudiated the war debt of the State, and took effectual steps to provide a code for the government of the freedmen. The Legislature, which meets on the 27th inst., will adopt, almost as its very first act, the anti-slavery amendment to the Constitution of the United States, and will carry out the wishes of the Convention, in passing a liberal code for the freedmen. Verily, the conduct of those who, in the face of these facts, still insist that we are disloyal, can be illustrated only by the fable of the "wolf and the lamb," once so happily referred to by "Old Zac"—peace to the grand old hero's honored ashes. X. Y. Z.

Mr. Colfax's Position---Butler on a Newspaper.

WASAINGTON, Nov. 28.—Those who have thought that Mr. Colfax spoke in consistence with the views of the President, will be satisfied from the telegram hence to the N. Y. Times, to the effect that upon an interview between these personages on Saturday last, they differed, though it is not likely in an illtempered way.

Gen. Butler is said to have, directly or indirectly, a large interest in a daily newspaper in this city. Yet other editors are to be added to the staff, and perhaps he may take a hand at writing himself. He is reported to be largely interested in business in Florida, to which State he may possibly go and return a Senator. He has not yet procured a suitable mansion here for occupancy the coming winter.

No Southern member of Congress elect has reached here yet. When they do, they will, of course, confer among themselves, and then by suitable committees, with the Executive and leading members from the North.

I hear that Mr. Herschell V. Johnson is here to get a pardon for Mr. Mallory.

The President's Message.

A Washington dispatch to the New York Tribune, says:

"No part of the forthcoming Message has received so much critical care and Cabinet revision as that portion refering to our relations with Mexico. The President has evinced a wise statesmanship, without infringing our national dignity or popular traditions. He is understood as taking the position that while we cannot be indifferent to transpiring events in Mexico, yet interference on our part is unnecessary, and would prove injurious both to ourselves and the Liberal cause.

A New Phase of Indemnity--The British and French Ministers Make a Formal Demand for the Delivery of Certain Tobacco Seized in Richmond.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE WORLD.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The British Minister has formally claimed three hundred and sixty hogsheads of tobacco which have been stored in Richmond for some months, and which were about being removed by Government agents to New York, under the confiscation law. The French Minister also claims his tobacco as belonging to Auguste Belmont, agent of the house of Rothschilds. The French Consul at Richmond protested against its seizure by the Government some time ago.

[SECOND DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The French Consul at Richmond has arrived here for the purpose of obtaining possession of or indemnity for the Confederate tobacco seized by the Government at Richmond, but subsequently claimed by the Rothschilds of France. This tobacco question involves a new complication.

Jeff. Davis not to be Released.

A Washington dispatch to the Philadelphia Inquirer, says:

The grounds being taken by the Southern press and many of their leaders that they have committed no crime, but had the right to make war upon the Union, has annoyed the President no little, and there are indications for the last day or two that his purpose to let Jeff. Davis off will be abandoned. The pressure from every Congressman who has seen him is very strong for justice; they demanding that it shall be placed beyond cavil that a million of men have not shed their blood in vain; that it can only be done by the scaffold.

A dispatch to the Philadelphia Ledger says: The impression gains ground that Jeff. Davis will soon be tried by a military commission.

GENERAL NEWS.

The smuggling on the Canadian border is estimated at $10,000 per day.

The New York Evening Post, of Monday, says that a case of cholera had occurred in Greenwich street in that city.

The calf of a thoroughbred cow, belonging to Colonel J. W. Fairfax, of London county, weighed 124 pounds when only a day old.

Texas contracted a debt of $9,000,000 during the war.

An English company has undertaken the building of the new boulevards in Paris.

Ten thousand negroes are to be tried by court-martial, and executed, we are told, for engaging in the Jamaica rebellion. We wonder if this butchery of black rebels will be approved by those who desired ten thousand white rebels put to death by our Government, and who are daily shouting for the execution of Jeff. Davis?—Newburyport Herald.

The Richmond Sentinel of the 28th, inst. says:

We see it stated that Mr. B. Rockford Riordan, at one time connected with the New Orleans Courier, and more recently, during the war with the Charleston Mercury, will be associated in the editorial management of the Examiner, soon to be revived by Mr. H. Rives Pollard. Mr. Riordan, though young in years, is an able and scholarly writer, and an ornament to the profession.

A steel vessel, which has just arrived in the Mersey, is the object of much curiosity and scientific calculation. The ship weathered the frightful cyclone at Calcutta last year, and although she received twenty concussions, each one of which would have sunk a wooden vessel, came out of the war of the elements with only honorable wounds. Her plates were twisted and indented, but not one of them cracked.

MYSTERIOUS PRISONER.—The Alexandria Evening Journal, of Saturday, says it has transpired that the prisoner recently brought to Washington from the South, under circumstances of great mystery, and incarcerated in the Old Capitol prison, is a Major Gee, who was in charge of the Salisbury prison while the mortality was the greatest among Union prisoners. He was arrested in Florida.

The South Carolina College at Columbia will resume its exercises on the first of January next. The College library, as well as the private libraries of the officers, escaped destruction.

The Organization of the House of Representatives.

A few additional members of Congress arrived here to-day, including Senator Trumbull, of Illinois. No delay from factious movements in the organization of the House of Representatives is anticipated. Instead of extraordinarily exciting and turbulent times, which have been predicted, the present indications are in the opposite direction—It is considered that there is nothing in the political aspect which cannot be reconciled, both to the satisfaction of the President and of Congress. The prospect, therefore, is that the House will be organized on Monday, and the President's Message and the accompanying reports of the heads of the Departments, be communicated to Congress on Tuesday.

Mr. Colfax, for Speaker, and Mr. McPherson, for Clerk, seem to have the entire field to themselves thus far, for re-election.

No one here so far as can be ascertained, believes that any of the members elect from the late insurrectionary States, with the exception, perhaps, of those from Tennessee and Arkansas, will be permitted to take part in the organization of the House.

The Raleigh and Wilmington trains now connect regularly with the Seaboard and Roanoke railroad, which connects to-day, and hereafter, regularly with the Old Line of boats at the railroad wharf in Portsmouth. Passengers arriving through from Raleigh and Wilmington by this route, save a day and avoid a night's stoppage in Petersburg.—Norfolk Virginian.

Take my stock altogether, I have one among the largest and most desirable and complete stocks of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods in the City.

Now, allow me to say that I bought my Goods to sell, and they must and shall be sold; but I don't expect to take a piece of poetry in one hand and a full grown humbug in the other and climb up to the clouds and fish out the birds of Paradise and gently bring them down with a placard stuck on their backs, "Selling out at Cost! selling out at cost!" No, I deal in no such humbug. I keep no such a class of Goods. I keep no time worn, shelf-rubbed, defaced or dusty Goods—dust so thick you can rub it off with a knife. My Goods are all new, and of good styles, and I intend to sell them as low as anybody that bought goods with the expectation of paying for them, and the man that sold the goods to the man that don't intend to pay for them, is a fool—and the man that sells the is a rascal. Now this is plain talk, but 'tis no slip of the tongue. I mean what I say, and say what I mean. I have lived here and sold goods here for twenty years. I expect to remain here I pay my taxes to support Institutions of the City, County and the State. I expect to continue to do so I respectfully ask my old customers, my old friends and new ones to call and examine my stock. I will deal with you honest and treat you right. Pioneer Line of Steamers

FOR

Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and Boston, via Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal.

THE COMMODIOUS STEAMERS PIONEER and Commodore Adams, will leave Newberne for Norfolk on TUESDAY of each week—each at 8 o'clock A M, connecting with the different lines of steamers for the above named points. On and after the first day of December next they will leave on Tuesday and Friday of each week, making semi-weekly trips. Shippers of Goods will receive every facility and accommodation for the transportation of the same, as arrangements have been made with the different companies to forward goods to this line at low rates and without delay. Each of these steamers are capable of carrying through the canal without difficulty, as they were built expressly for the trade. They are fitted up with STATE ROOMS and BERTHS capable of accommodating thirty-five passengers. Every attention will be paid to the comfort of passengers, who will not be subject to the inconvenience of transfer to other vessels, but will be taken through direct without charge.

The tables of the steamers are liberally supplied with the best the market affords. Families traveling will find it to their interest to take this line, as they will thereby escape the danger and discomfort of a sea route and the fatigue of railroad travel.

On the 15th of December next, if the business of the line warrants it, the steamer Williams will be put on the route, and tri-weekly trips will be made.

For freight or passage apply to Whitford, Dill & Co., Newbern, N C.

GREAT BARGAINS

IN CLOTHS AND FANCY DRY GOODS.

THE SUBSCRIBER RESPECTFULLY ANnounces to his friends and patrons, and to the Members of the Legislature, and to strangers visiting the City, that he continues to carry on the

at his old stand, where he will be happy to see them and sell them great bargains in his line. He would also call the attention of those of the Military Department wishing to purchase clothing, uniforms or citizens' dress, to the fact that they will find great bargains. In style and taste they cannot be surpassed by any in this city or any other. He deems it unnecessary to say any thing of his own skill in the Tailoring business, but it will suffice to say that his experience has not been for a few years only, but for the last 15 years. He therefore solicits a liberal patronage. Prompt attention will be given to persons wishing to have cutting done. Orders from a distance will be thankfully received and promptly attended to. Call at store No. 15 Fayetteville Street, Raleigh, N. C.

MRS. FENTRESS has opened a Boarding House next door, about 150 yards from the Capitol, where she will entertain members of the Legislature or transient Boarders.

T. R. FENTRESS, Merchant Tailor.

A CARD.

THE SUBSCRIBER WOULD RESPECTFULLY call attention of the Ladies and Gentlemen of the City, and the public generally, to a large and beautiful stock of goods comprising every thing that is needful to complete a wardrobe.

For cheapness there is none that can compete with the house of Messrs. Bowen & Randall, No. 15 Fayetteville Street, Raleigh, N. C. Call and examine his goods before you purchase elsewhere, and my word for it you will find cheap goods.

A new supply of goods has just been received and he will continue to receive them by every steamer that arrives.

The strictest attention will be paid by Mr. Bowen, the proprietor, and his clerks, to those who give him a call.

Make no mistake. Be certain to call at the store No. 15 Fayetteville Street, on the corner of the vacant square.
